

BABY SETS FIRE TO HOME; BURNS TO DEATH

MISTAKE IN TIME OF FLEET'S ARRIVAL

Thousands Viewing Pageant Will Be Stranded for Night Owing to Poor Schedule for Ships.

In some sort of a way, for which no one seems to be responsible, but which is apparently a grave error, a mistake has been made in arranging for the coming of the great American fleet to San Francisco harbor at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

As the arrangement now stands the flagship is to pass through the Golden Gate at promptly 2 o'clock in the afternoon. As the ships are expected to arrive at least two hours before they reach their berths.

This really means that it will be 4 o'clock before the ships are at anchor and that this will mean the greatest sort of hardship to the thousands of people outside of San Francisco who will witness the pageant.

The most conservative estimate which can be made indicates that at least 200,000 people from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond and other near-by towns on this side of the bay will be crowded to the scene. Four o'clock in the afternoon will find these thousands stalled for the night and unable to be accommodated or get to their homes.

To Stop Ferries.

In other days San Francisco would have been able to have cared for all these visitors. Just now it would be impossible. During the process of the fleet, and during the time the ships are passing to their berths and maneuvering for their anchorages it is safe to assume that ferry-boat traffic will have to be curtailed for a time and possibly suspended for a time.

The thousands of sightseers cannot possibly be handled by the land transportation facilities, and altogether it indicates a grave and a serious situation. The arrangement of the fleet's arrival at 2 o'clock is probably to take advantage of the tide without reference to other details. So far as dangers to the ships are concerned it is limited by the fact that the north channel they will follow is of forty-five feet depth at the lowest tide. While the regulations of the navy insist on the ship's officers doing their own navigating it would be possible to have the leading ship of each division manned by an advisory pilot, thus obviating danger, courtesying to custom and yielding to the regulation.

Should Change Hour.

In other words it is time to take up this matter and see if it is not possible to have the hours advanced so that all of the ships can be at their anchorages at least not later than 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and thus give every one a chance to witness the great pageant and only undergo the necessary hardships which follow such crushes.

No event in the history of this coast is exciting the interest that the incoming fleet has aroused and every possible safeguard should be thrown about the arrangements. The crowds will tax the transportation facilities of both cities and there should be no mistakes made in this matter.

THE TRIBUNE in suggesting this question is actuated by the general spirit of the best good for all and as all others do realize the benefit accruing to both cities and bespeaks a strong movement at once to secure such a change in the hours of the fleet's arrival.

Unless there is a change in the program there will be at least 50,000, if not 100,000 people left at the ferry stations after the parade without any chance of getting home until late hours in the morning. Left unprotected and exposed.

To Resume Late Car Service Friday

The Oakland Traction Company announced today that, beginning Friday, April 10, its cars will resume late night service, and will, as heretofore, run until 1:05 o'clock in the morning.

The cars will, hereafter, meet the Key Route trains which connect with the last ferry boats from San Francisco.

HENEY MADE BUTT OF LUNCHEON

John Heney, Bottler, Life of Merchant's Exchange Luncheon With His Roasts of His Namesake.

Announcement by President Oliver Ellsworth of the city council that he was certain the councilmen, and, he thought, the county supervisors, are ready and eager to legislate themselves out of office and voluntarily resign in order to facilitate early action toward the consolidation of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley and neighboring towns under one city and county government, and to prove their disinterestedness was received amid cheers and hand-clapping by a big gathering of prominent business men at the weekly luncheon of the Merchants' Exchange in the Metropole Hotel this noon.

Heny Is a Joke.

Pointed reference to Francis J. Heney, of an uncompromising character, drew forth a storm of applause and laughter, when John Heney, president of the Oakland Bottling Company, upbraided the legal lieutenant of Rudolph Spreckels' so-called graft prosecution for his well known propensity for indulging in "high temperatured verbosity at any time and in any place, no matter how sacred."

There was noticeable excitement among the business men when John Heney was called upon for a speech by President Harry G. Williams of the Merchants' Exchange, who presided.

"It is with great reluctance, gentlemen, that I arise in reply to Mr. Williams' request. I am not an orator. It seems strange, I suppose, that any man by the name of Heney should shrink from shooting off his mouth whenever and wherever he could get a chance."

Thought It Funny.

It may seem funny to you business men, who have noticed the antics of another Heney, whose given name shall be nameless. You all know only too well who he is and what he is, anyway, for me to have to tell you.

"Yes, gentlemen, you have a right to be surprised, startled, even shocked to see and hear a man who says his name is Heney, and yet begs you to believe him when he declares that he is not crazy to talk."

"Gentlemen, I am a straight business man, nothing more, and as such I believe in tending to my own business and leaving other people's business alone."

"I am in the bottling business, and I will do no uncorking. That is all I care to say."

John Heney was repeatedly interrupted by bursts of applause when his remarks pointed unmistakably to Francis J. Heney's passion for lecturing on other men's faults in public.

FATHER HURT IN EFFORT TO SAVE CHILD

Dashes Into Raging Fire

Flames Beat Parent Back From Room

Spectators Keep Man From Sacrificing His Life

NEWARK, April 8.—The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emory of this place was burned to death last evening in a fire which partially destroyed their home. Emory was severely burned in an effort to save his child.

Emory, who is a machinist, was called from the house to repair an auto belonging to John Bunting of Centerville. While he was at work, Mrs. Emory stepped out of the house with her two little girls to speak to her husband, leaving the baby boy, Roy, alone in the house. There was no fire in the house, and it is supposed that the baby got matches and started the oil burner in the cook stove. How the fire attacked the woodwork is unknown, as there was no explosion of oil.

The first Emory knew of the fire was when the flames burst out the windows. He dashed into the blazing kitchen but was driven back by the flames. Again he rushed in, only to be overwhelmed by the heat. Bunting and others restrained him or he would probably have lost his life.

His condition is serious from burns on face and hands, but his recovery is expected.

The baby's body, badly charred, was found on a kitchen table near a window, on which it is thought the child climbed in an effort to escape from the flames.

Bunting took Mr. and Mrs. Emory to his home in Centerville where they will remain until Emory recovers and his home is rebuilt.

Mr. Asquith first tendered to his majesty his resignation as chancellor of the exchequer and immediately thereafter, he kissed the hand of the king on his appointment to the post of prime minister and first lord of the treasury.

It is officially announced that King Edward will leave Biarritz April 15 in order to hold a privy council on the 16th. ANTI-RACE TRACK BILL LOST

Measure Opposing Betting Defeated in Albany Senate Where Vote Stood 25 to 25

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—The anti-race track bill was defeated in the Senate today. The vote was a tie, 25 to 25.

Prior to voting on the anti-race track bill Senator McCareen said the Governor was in error if he believed that the pending bills would stop gambling or that he could make a "puritanical city" out of New York.

Senator Armstrong, Republican, declared that the bills covered all forms of gambling and that if Wall street speculation was a form of gambling it could be stopped under the present bills.

RULING IS AGAINST RUEF

Supreme Court Refuses to Grant Writ of Prohibition—He Must Face Trial Before Judge Dooling.

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—The application of Abraham Ruef for a writ of mandamus and prohibition to prevent his trial on a charge of bribery before Judge Maurice T. Dooling on the grounds of alleged prejudice, was today denied by the Supreme Court sitting in this city. The order of court was made immediately after the morning session, and a brief conference attended by the six justices of the court in chambers. There was no opinion rendered, the announcement coming as a simple decision upon one of the cases on the calendar. It was stated that the application of Ruef's attorney, was considered briefly yesterday and again this morning before the order was entered.

Two Cases Involved.

Legally, two cases were involved, the first being an application for a writ of mandamus against Judge Dooling and Judge Duane to prevent the trial of Ruef before either; and the other, entitled "Abraham Ruef vs. The Superior Court of the City and County of San Francisco," wherein the issue was the same, but the pleadings slightly varied.

The adverse decision of the Supreme Court marks the final move of Ruef's attorney, Henry Ach, to prevent his client being brought to trial on one of the cases known as the Parkside trolley bribes. The appeal was taken from the lower court where Judge Duane, disqualified, summoned Judge Maurice T. Dooling, of San Benito county, to sit in his stead. Ruef's application to have Judge Dooling disqualified was denied and appeal was taken on avrious grounds.

BOY ON BICYCLE HURLED AGAINST TROLLEY CAR

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Oscar Webber, 12 years old, living at 335 Alvarado avenue, was fatally injured at 7:30 this morning in a collision with a street car while he was riding to work on his bicycle. The accident took place at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Sanchez streets. Webber was riding his wheel at a high rate of speed down Sanchez street and turning into Twenty-fourth failed to notice car 1014 coming towards him until it was too late to stop his pace.

He became confused by the car and a buggy which was also in the block and crashed right into the former. His wheel was smashed almost to bits and the boy himself was hurled head foremost against the car and fell unconscious to the ground.

He was picked up by Policeman Thomas Finley, who happened to be passing, and sent to the Central Emergency Hospital, where Dr. Hill found that he had sustained a badly fractured skull and internal injuries besides numerous bruises and abrasions. His recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Barney's husband was killed by a train, recently, and she was given the nomination out of sympathy and in the hope that the question of eligibility would not be considered. When the council's action was known today, Mrs. Barney said:

MANY WITNESSES DECLARE BOARDMAN INCOMPETENT

Say That During 1902 the Millionaire Was Not in Condition to Make a Will.

The trial of the Joseph Boardman will contest was resumed before Judge Wente in the Superior Court this morning. Attorney R. M. Fitzgerald continued putting in evidence on behalf of the widow and child.

The will which is asked probate by outsiders was executed December 18, 1902. No heir to the estate is interested in this will. Boardman made several curious wills and they are all before the court.

The testimony today all shows that Boardman was utterly incompetent to make a will in 1902.

Chapman's Testimony.

Attorney M. C. Chapman was the first witness called for Mrs. Boardman this morning. He stated that in 1902 Mr. Boardman called at his office several times and talked with him about his business and other matters. Boardman could not talk coherently and Mr. Chapman said that at the time Boardman made his will he considered him utterly incompetent.

M. Neal, a plumber, testified that he had done work for Mr. Boardman in 1902 and considered him of unsound mind.

George L. Fish, a capitalist, said that he had known Mr. Boardman for many years. He knew him before he went to Europe and he met him many times after he came back. During the year 1902 he met Mr. Boardman several times and the old man always talked in a rambling manner. "I considered him of unsound mind during 1902."

John W. King of San Francisco said that he leased some property from Boardman in June, 1902. He refused to deal with Boardman finally until Boardman's agent approved of the lease. The witness feared to do business with Boardman because he considered him incompetent. The lease was finally settled by the agent. Boardman at that time could not talk coherently.

Unsound Mind.

J. B. Bowen, business agent of the Building Trades Council in Alameda county, knew Mr. Boardman in 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903. The witness saw a great change in Boardman's condition from 1900 to 1902. "I considered Mr. Boardman of unsound mind in December, 1902," said the witness. "He could not remember from one day to another and his conversation was very disconnected."

W. T. Tate, a salesman, who resides at 668 Tenth street, said he had known Mr. Boardman since 1897. He had sold him groceries and later he was his neighbor. "I considered him of unsound mind in 1902," said the witness. "His memory was very poor. He would not know me from one day to another. His condition gradually grew worse."

E. P. Cook, real estate dealer, had known Boardman for thirty years. "After Boardman returned from Europe in 1902 I saw a great change in his mental condition. I could not get him to talk coherently. He could not even recognize me after he came back from Europe. I considered him of unsound mind in 1902. He was not rational in December, 1902."

Harry B. Belden, manager of the Belden estate, was next called. "I have known Mr. Boardman since 1890," said Mr. Belden. "He knew me intimately. After he returned from Europe he did not know me and I had to tell him who I was. He seemed to have an utter lack of memory. He did not even know what property he owned. I did not consider him competent to do any business."

Max Rothchild declared Boardman was incompetent in 1902.

Could Not Remember.

Jeremiah Tyrrell, real estate dealer, did business for Boardman for twelve years before he died. In November and December, 1900, witness considered him unsound of mind. Witness talked to Boardman about insurance and an hour later Boardman would not remember a word he said.

J. C. Downey, manager of the Fuller Company, said Boardman was in his dotage in 1902. It would take him a half an hour to make out a check.

Charles Hart, Deputy County Treasurer, a former tenant of Boardman and his neighbor, said he knew Boardman very well and saw him sometimes every day. "I saw him when he returned from Europe," said witness. "He did not know me. I considered him of unsound mind. I have seen him on the street when he did not know where he was."

J. F. Broad, a San Francisco plumber, declared that Boardman was very forgetful and his mind was wandering in 1902.

Noon recess.

Mrs. Boardman Goes on the Stand

Mrs. Blanche L. Boardman was called as a witness at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Boardman will contest. She testified that she married Mr. Boardman in June, 1899. When she married him, she says, he knew all about his property and was well able to take care of his business.

In August, 1901, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman took a trip to Europe. After Mr. Boardman's return from Europe his mind failed rapidly. He suffered two strokes of paralysis while on his European trip. Mr. Boardman changed completely and his wife was compelled to take charge of his business.

CHINA PREPARES TO DEFY WORLD

Raising Army of 1,000,000 Men to Give Battle for Rights, Say Chinese.

"China: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" was the subject of an interesting address delivered this morning by Dr. Ng Foon Chew before the Alameda County Teachers Institute. Dr. Chew, who is the editor of the Chinese-American newspaper published in San Francisco, said in part:

"England, Germany and France are now occupying the best harbors in the East at China's expense. When we see the flags of these countries it reminds us of the treatment we received at the hands of these nations. China will adopt Western methods in her dealings with these nations. China has found that in the treatment accorded her by these nations that might is right; that a nation has no right except what she can enforce by might."

"Therefore a great nation is a nation that can kill the largest number of men in the quickest possible time with the least expense to herself. China has resolved to follow Japan in remodeling her political, social, educational and military organizations so as to place her on a firm footing, so that the time may come when China may not only defend herself against any nation or combination of nations, she is now raising a standing army of 1,000,000 men. Chinese students are scattered all over the world studying Western ideas, science, education and military tactics."

"The day will come when China will be one of the greatest nations of the world whose rights will be respected and whose name will be honored by the nations of the world."

"The School Uses of Literature" was the subject of Dr. Richard G. Boone's lecture.

MURDER TRIALS ON TODAY

ROBERT CURTIN MRS. ISABELLA MARTIN MARK WILKINS

SENSATIONAL TALK IN MURDER CASE

Defense Claims Suicide and Gives Reason for Burial in Lime.

The prosecution and defense of Mark A. Wilkins, charged with murdering Mrs. Vernie Carmin, his putative wife, outlined their cases this morning.

District Attorney Brown outlined the case of the prosecution, and Hugh McIsaac, counsel for Wilkins, told what the defense would endeavor to prove. McIsaac, as did Brown, went into detail in regard to the case and dwelt at length upon its many phases, which are almost all circumstantial. The statements of the two attorneys were dramatic in the extreme and were eagerly listened to by a crowded lobby.

The Woman's Motive.

"Do you jurors want to know why she died? The cause of her death forms the foundation of this case. Can you picture the fact that she realized that she had deserted the man she had married, the man she had promised at the altar to love, honor and obey? She realized that after eight years of childless married life she was now about to become the mother of a child that would be a mockery to her, that would be a bar between her and her lawful husband, that would keep her from her parents and keep her apart from those she loved. From a personal physician as to the existence of anything could he done to prevent the wasteful and apparently needless expenditure of large sums of money for the purpose of exterminating rats in this city and securing what the rat will not leave a dead rat to go upon a human being, that if it be put upon a person it will not remain."

Why He Buried Her.

"To protect her name, to leave her father and her husband in ignorance of her disgrace, to keep from the public the fact that she had lived with him while she was not his wife, this old man buried her. He acted upon a good impulse and his act was manly. He was trying to protect the name of a woman he had loved. It was the supreme effort of this old man to protect the name of this woman, this woman whom he must have loved, for he lived with her, cared for her, was tender to her, and after her death he tried to protect her. Do you blame him?"

These were the statements of Attorney Hugh McIsaac, counsel for Mark A. Wilkins, who is now on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Vernie Carmin, when he outlined his case before the jury in Superior Judge Melvin's court this morning.

Movements of Pair.

The attorney came into this harbor in the morning. The husband, L. L. Carmin, to go to Sulphur Springs, Colo., where she was to visit friends. Mrs. Wilkins on the train and the couple went to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. They then came to San Francisco, and both being without funds, they engaged in a bakery in San Francisco. Mrs. Carmin became ill and the couple moved to Elmhurst, where the tragedy is alleged to have taken place.

Fire in Mid-Ocean Causes Excitement

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Fire starting in the rigging of the steamer Montessa by sparks from the vessel's funnel when she was three days out from Paapeete on the voyage to this port from Honolulu, caused great excitement, but was finally put out by the members of the crew before any great damage was done. SAYS RICH HUSBAND WON'T PAY ALIMONY

Mrs. Ella M. Coward has filed a petition with the Superior Court, asking that H. C. Coward, the prominent salt manufacturer, from whom she secured a divorce some time ago, be compelled to pay her $50 alimony for the month of April.

Mrs. Coward says in her petition that her former husband was ordered to pay the amount on the first of each month, but has thus far failed to pay the $50 for April. She claims that the alimony is her sole support for herself and two minor children.

Antonio M. Galindo filed suit for divorce today against Mrs. Bertha Galindo, charging adultery. The couple were married in 1892 and Galindo claims he has been mistreated in many ways by his wife.

MAYOR MOTT TESTIFIES REGARDING STREET WORK

Denies Charge Against Superintendent

Mayor Frank K. Mott was before the Grand Jury for about an hour and a half this morning, giving testimony in regard to the street department, which is now under investigation by the inquisitors. The Mayor went into the workings of the street department at length and spoke of the amount of work that has been done under the jurisdiction of the Board of Works.

Mayor Mott declared that the Board of Works had summoned the managers of public utilities corporations before them upon many occasions and had demanded that the streets be repaired in places where they had been torn up by the corporations. He stated that after some bickering that the street department or the superintendent of streets had been negligent in calling the corporations to time.

The city's chief executive also pointed out that more work has been done on the streets of this city in the past two years than in any other time in the history of the city. He asserted that he knew of no flagrant infractions of the law by the corporations and that the minor cases had all been attended to promptly.

Joseph L. Coghlan, connected with the street department, and J. H. Morris, Trail & Norris also appeared before the Grand Jury and were questioned in regard to the conditions of the streets of Oakland.

The inquisitors are investigating the street department at the instance of Henry Mowbray of East Oakland, who charges the superintendent of streets with gross negligence in allowing the public utilities corporations to dig up the streets and not replace them according to law.

OPPOSE SPENDING MORE MONEY ON RAT CRUSADE

Merchants' Exchange Thinks Plague Over

The committee appointed by the Merchants' Exchange to investigate Bubonic plague conditions in Oakland, submitted the following resolution at last night's meeting of the organization opposing further appropriations by the city council, which was unanimously adopted:

"To the Officers and Members of the Merchants' Exchange: Gentlemen:—The undersigned members of your committee, appointed to investigate the Bubonic plague conditions existing in this city and ascertain what conditions clearly indicate if they do or do not believe that the plague is transmitted from the rat to man. One eminent English authority declares that the rat will not leave a dead rat to go upon a human being, that if it be put upon a person it will not remain."

"We do not believe that the city is justified in spending a large sum of money in carrying out an unsupported theory of enthusiasts when facts and conditions clearly indicate if they do or do not believe that the plague is transmitted from the rat to man. One eminent English authority declares that the rat will not leave a dead rat to go upon a human being, that if it be put upon a person it will not remain."

Oppose Further Appropriations.

"Your committee would, therefore, recommend that while the men of medicine and science thus disagree and while the facts are so at variance with the theories and conditions of the plague in this city, the city council should discontinue the appropriation of this vast sum of money."

"Respectfully submitted,"

"GEORGE W. ARPER,
"E. A. YOUNG,
"H. DAVISON,
"FRED SINCLAIR,
"Committee."

No Plague Since November 6.

"No plague cases are now reported as suspicious and are being watched. No Oakland case of plague is reported since November 6, five months ago. Your committee finds that there is a wide difference of opinion among our reputable physicians as to the existence of plague in this city, some fearlessly declaring that they do not believe the plague exists now or has at any time existed here. It would doubtless be profitable and interesting to have the Alameda County Medical Society take this matter in hand and report their conclusions."

"We have learned in the course of our investigation that although about two hundred men are engaged in, or supposed to be engaged in catching rats, handling rats, and moving about in places where rats are supposed to be, none of them have been reported as Bubonic suspects or patients. Of the army of scavengers who daily remove the three hundred or more tons of the city garbage not one has been reported on the Bubonic list, and this in view of the fact that the rat will not leave a dead rat to go upon a human being, that if it be put upon a person it will not remain."

—submit it to you—because we consider that it shows exceeding well the long, lithe lines which are the aim of the ultra this season.

The model over which the coat is fitted is one of the representative new Redfern Models designed especially to meet the requirements of this fashion. The bust is high, showing no line through the most snug-fitting dress, the figure is perceptibly reduced at all points, the waist rounded and decreased, the hips and back greatly decreased and sloped, giving the effect of extreme slenderness.

REDFERN MODELS are exquisite in designing, workmanship, materials and finish, the pure Arctic Whalebone with which they are stayed is rounded and celluloid-tipped, preventing its "punching-through" the fabric, however fine.

Redfern Models for all types of forms, in varying heights of bust, and lengths of skirt. Price $3.00 to $10.00 per pair.

LEGAL LIGHTS OF THE MUTT CASE ARE FALLING FOR THE "COAT-OF-ARMS" FAD

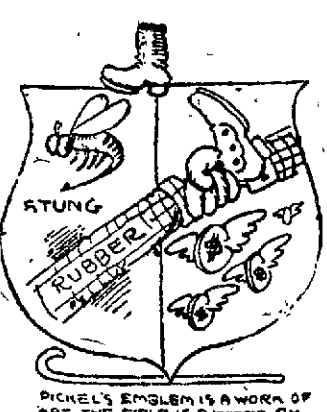

Dame Ramon has it that Attorney Beany is designing a family crest. Other stars of the prosecution may follow example.

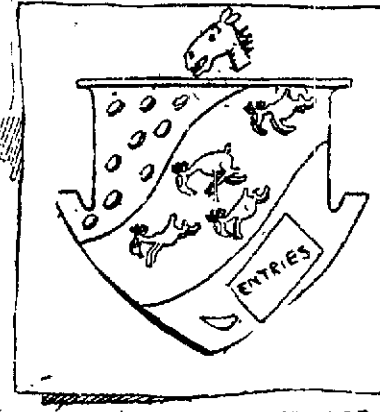

THE COAT OF ARMS SELECTED BY ATT. BEANY, CONSISTS OF A SHIELD, SURMOUNTED BY A CROWN, AND A BANNER AT THE BOTTOM. THE SHIELD IS DIVIDED INTO FOUR QUARTERS. THE UPPER LEFT QUARTER IS A FIELD OF LIONS, WHILE THE UPPER RIGHT QUARTER IS A FIELD OF TREES. THE LOWER LEFT QUARTER IS A FIELD OF WHEAT, AND THE LOWER RIGHT QUARTER IS A FIELD OF GRASS. THE BANNER AT THE BOTTOM BEARS THE MOTTO: "VINI, VIDI, VICI, KUSH."

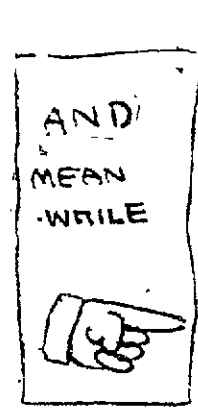

TOBACCO'S CREST IS MOST APPROPRIATE. IN THE CENTER OF A SHIELD, SURMOUNTED BY A GUMSHOE, IS A HUGE SILVER DOLLAR. SURROUNDING IT IS A RING OF CIGARETTES. THE UPPER SECTION IS A GROUP OF CIGARETTES, WHILE THE LOWER SECTION CONTAINS A SLEEPING FINNAN DOG. A RING OF JUSTICE IS WRAPPED AROUND THE SHIELD.

RUBBER'S CREST IS A WORK OF ART. THE SHIELD IS DIVIDED BY A RUBBER BAND, THE ACT OF BEING STRETCHED AROUND IS A HIGHLY COLORED RED. INSCRIBED "STUNG" BELOW IS A GROUP OF FLYING DOLLARS. THE TOP OF THE SHIELD IS DECORATED WITH AN OREGON BOY, WHILE AT THE BOTTOM, IS THE NOOK.

WHILE FLEET IS IN THE BAY MEN MAY HAVE BIG CLUB HOUSE HERE

WANT TO PROVIDE LODGINGS AND MEALS

Entertainment Committee Adopts Elaborate Plans for Giving "Jackies" Good Time.

The entertainment committee last night decided on the details of the good time to be given to the officers and men of the fleet when they arrive here. Many of the small parties were ordered for the barbeque and headquarters are to be provided for the information, housing and feeding of the jackies while in the bay.

Continuous Entertainment.

General Secretary W. A. Horn of the Y. M. C. A. and International Secretary McCarl of the Naval Y. M. C. A. were present at the meeting and presented a plan for opening headquarters near the business center in which meals may be served to the men and lodgings provided. The building is to be supplied with games as in the larger eastern cities. The project is to be carried out during the stay of the fleet, a building of sufficient size to accommodate all who desire to take advantage of it. McCarl stated that in Rio Janeiro an arrangement was made at the headquarters to exchange the money of the sailors for the money of the land country and that the amount handled averaged eight thousand dollars each day.

Big Pay Day.

When the fleet arrives in San Francisco all the men will receive the big pay day and the amount will be greatly in excess of the small payments made in southern waters. Hence it may be estimated that at least ten thousand dollars a day will be spent by the visitors. To get Oakland's share will be of advantage to the city and will be a large number of men to keep the place open day and night. Meals will be furnished at cost and the men made to feel at home. The committee asked for a detailed plan in writing and will take the matter up at the next meeting on Thursday evening.

A letter was received from Admiral Evans accepting the invitation of the city of Oakland for himself, officers and men to be the guests of the city.

Thousands in Parade.

Mayor Mott reported that the communications sent to Magdalena Bay by his special representative had been answered and the letters were read. The executive officer of the fleet, in reply to the request for a large number of men to parade in Oakland on May 9, answered that the request had been gladly conceded and that Oakland could count upon forty companies in the parade. This will mean upwards of 3000 men from the battleships alone in the line. The letter suggested that if the Oakland committee could arrange for the sailors in uniform to be admitted free to the theaters on Monday, May 11, it would be greatly appreciated.

Children's Day.

Tuesday has been set aside as Oakland School Children's Day. On that date, May 12, the school children will be afforded an opportunity to visit the ships in the fleet, and on the four ships anchored nearest to Oakland special arrangements will be made so that officers and men will be detailed to show the children all through the ships. The committee decided that it was not in their province to arrange for the entertainment of the school children, as just at this time the body will be very busy with other things. Hence Mayor Mott arranged with the school committee so that all the children may visit the ships.

The Hibernia Savings and Loan Society

MONEY DEPOSITED ON OR BEFORE APRIL 10, WILL DRAW INTEREST FROM APRIL 1, 1938.

As many as can be should be accompanied by their parents.

Visit to Alameda.

As the Alameda committee asked the Oakland committee to arrange so that as many as possible of the men could visit the city, the mayor requested that some arrangement to this end be made. The reply was that the officers of the fleet suggested that the citizens of Alameda arrange to give cash prizes to crews from the several vessels for boat races on the tidal canal. Cash prizes were mentioned because the several crews now have so many trophies that they had no place in which to store them. As each ship has a crew that thinks it is superior to the crew of every other vessel, it was thought several days sport could be arranged for. When the crews row many of the men from each ship attend the races and spur on their followers.

Welcome to Metcalf.

Secretary Metcalf will probably arrive in Oakland on May 2 and will be met at the depot by the entire reception and executive committees and escorted to his hotel. He will make Oakland his headquarters during his stay and has accepted invitation to be the guest of the governor at a banquet on May 7, of the San Francisco committee on May 8, and of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on May 9. When he set the latter date, he responded to the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce it was not known that May 9 would be Oakland Day. Hence in all probability the banquet will be given him jointly by the citizens committee and the Chamber of Commerce.

Going to Berkeley.

May 14 has been set aside as Berkeley day. Secretary Metcalf notified the Oakland committee that during his stay in California, Rear Admiral Glass would be his personal aide and that he would have with him his secretary and two aides, whom he would bring on from Washington.

To Have Own Boat.

Chairman George W. Reed of the reception committee announced that the Key Route had donated the use of one of its ferry boats for the committee to welcome the fleet with as it comes through the Golden Gate and on several other occasions when it will be necessary for the committee to go upon the bay. The only cost will be the actual expense of salaries and fuel. The limit of passengers on these occasions to be 300, as it is conceded that all will rush to one side of the boat, and precautions against accidents will be upmost. It will be the present intention to have the day of welcome the mayor's committee of fifty will be present on the boat.

Elaborate Decorations.

Chairman Heeseman of the decoration committee stated that the amount of money to be at the disposition of his committee would regulate the extensiveness of the decorations. The committee will decorate each trolley pole from First to Twentieth streets with evergreen, and a cluster of pennants hanging from the top of each pole and flags hanging from the guide wires between the feed wires. This will give two large flags directly over the street. Washington from Seventh to Fourteenth and the latter street from Washington to Broadway, will be similarly decorated. The committee also wants to have these streets brilliantly lighted by strings of electric lights and would like to have a welcome sign, but the latter has been abandoned for the present or until responses to the appeal of the finance committee come in better.

Posters Nearly Ready.

Chairman Stearns of the publicity committee reported that the posters would be ready for distribution in a few days, a delay having occurred which it was impossible to prevent. Chairman Gier of the finance committee stated that the committee had only about ten thousand dollars in sight and it was absolutely necessary that at least three times that amount be raised to entertain and receive this vast number of visitors in any manner fitting for so large a city. The committee regrets that the appeals sent to property owners have been so universally ignored. The owners of buildings do not realize the importance of this event.

Officers' Entertainment.

Chairman Bulger of the committee on entertainment of officers reported that his committee was having invitations printed to send to every officer of the fleet. The program will include a ride in autos after the morning parade, followed by a light lunch, then another auto ride in the afternoon to all points of interest and a grand banquet in the evening.

5000 at Barbecue.

Chairman English of the committee on entertainment of the enlisted men reported that his committee had arranged to feed four thousand five hundred at the big barbecue after the parade and was granted permission to purchase that number of knives, forks, spoons and cups. The reports last evening show, however, that there will probably be a larger number in the parade.

Country Club Invitation.

The committee received a very courteous invitation from the Country Club, in which it was stated that the club would send an invitation to every officer in the fleet, extending the courtesies of the club. A vote of thanks was accorded the Country Club.

Baseball Games.

Secretary McFarlane of the Oakland Baseball Association notified the committee that the sailors could arrange for games at Freeman's Park grounds on as many days during their stay as they desired—Tuesdays and Sundays excepted.

Floats for Landing.

At least a dozen floats for landings will be built at once that the launches from the ships may land safely. They will be placed along the harbor at the S. P. piers, Key Route and S. P. piers. Several large launches from southern California will make Oakland headquarters and will make frequent trips to the ships from this city.

GOULD CHARGES DON'T WORRY BUFFALO BILL

CHICAGO, April 8.—William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," was unruffled by an attack in New York by Howard Gould charging that the famous showman was a swindler. Gould, now seeking a legal separation, and who, as Katherine Clemmons, was a friend of the Wild West showman, alleged that the conduct of his wife and Colonel Cody was improper was calmly ignored. "The affairs of Howard Gould and his wife do not interest me," said Colonel Cody. "Howard Gould is a woman who is now his wife four years before he married her, and for nine years after that he never made any complaint. If there had been anything wrong he would in fact have said so long ago. Pay any attention to it? Not me. I'm not interested in his troubles and I don't see how they concern me."

ITALIAN CAR DRIVER EXCEEDS SPEED LIMIT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Charles Godard, driver of the Italian car in the New York to Paris race, was arrested yesterday morning for speeding his car on the great highway. Godard paid $20 bail and was released. He will appear in court this morning for trial. He was born in France thirty years ago.

BROTHER OF RAILROAD MAN PASSES AWAY

DECOTO, April 8.—Harry H. Crane, brother of C. C. Crane, the well-known railroad man, died at his home in Decoto. He was buried on his eighth birthday, April 1. All the older residents will remember his father and mother, who lived in Alvarado at one time. A few months ago his grandfather died at the ripe age of 92 years.

DRINK PLENTY GOOD WATER

Try This at Home for Kidney and Bladder Diseases and Rheumatism.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known authority. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected. "Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicine—plain, common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach. "When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was: 'You must make the kidneys do the work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions I would suggest the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce; Compound Kagon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparil, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. Ad take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.' This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight."

ANTI-LIQUOR FORCES WIN

Dozens of Towns in Illinois Go Dry—Democrats Capture Control of Milwaukee and Kansas City.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 8.—Returns received at the State headquarters of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League and the headquarters of the Illinois Brewers Association show that the following counties have gone dry in every township: Mason, Fayette, Green, Brown, Shelby, Dewitt and nearly every township in Sangamon county, except the capital and New Berlin. In Christian county all but one township, Assumption, with two schools, went dry. In Mason county all except the town of Grafton. The following large cities in the State went dry: Rockford, Decatur, Galesburg, Pontiac, Kankakee, Mattoon, Dixon, Litchfield, Clinton.

Many Places Dry. The smaller cities and towns which went dry included Mason City, Pittsfield, Carrollton, St. Charles, Oregon, Behndere, Plainfield, Brighton, Bunker Hill, Milwaukee, Girard, Chesterfield, Leroy, Colfax, Lexington, Danvers, Easton, Edinburg, Middletown, Maroa, Shipman, Fox City, Kibbourn, Jerseyville, Taylorville, Edinburg, Virdian, Elkhart, Pana, Vandalia, Morris, Wheaton, Chatham, St. Elmo, Matton, Sun Jose, Bath, Pleasant Plains, Riverton, Niantic and Diverson.

Democrats in Control.

MILWAUKEE.—Complete city returns from yesterday's municipal election in Milwaukee give David C. Rose (Democrat) for mayor 224 plurality over Emil Selig (Socialist-Democrat). For comptroller August Gawin (Democrat) was elected by a plurality of 2788 votes and Vincenz Schoenenleker (Democrat) treasurer, with a plurality of 443. Democrats will control the new council, having elected all of the twelve aldermen at large and eight from the wards. The Socialist-Democrats elected nine and the Republicans six aldermen.

John Barnes of Rhineland was elected justice of the Supreme Court over Robert M. Bashford by a large plurality.

G. O. P. Snowed Under.

KANSAS CITY.—Complete returns show the election of Thomas Crittenden Jr. (Democrat) for mayor over Henry M. Beardsley (Republican) by a plurality of 1611 votes. The complete Democratic ticket, with the exception of police judge and city treasurer, was elected. The Democrats also secured the entire upper House ticket and nine out of fourteen aldermen in the lower House. This gives them complete control of all branches of the city government. The heaviest vote in the history of the city was polled. At Independence, Mo., the Democratic ticket, with the exception of two aldermen, was elected.

At Kansas City, Kas., the Democrats and the Republicans each elected three aldermen. With the aldermen who hold over the council will be Democratic.

ESTATE IS SUED FOR INTEREST IN A MINE

SEATTLE, Wash., April 8.—The allegation that he was sent out by Marcus Daly with the understanding that he was to get a twenty-five per cent division of the profits is made the basis by M. K. Rodgers for a suit to recover a quarter interest in the Nickel plate mine at Hedley, estimated to be worth $4,000,000. It is alleged that the Daly estate has attempted to settle with Rodgers on a basis of a $2,000,000 valuation of the mine. Rodgers refused this, however. An offer to sell the mine for $4,000,000 was recently refused by the estate. Since the mine has been shipped it has sent $1,000,000 in gold bullion to the Seattle assay office, and it is claimed that it is now on a producing basis where an estimate of the share Rodgers claims figured above the million dollar mark.

VICTIM OF KOREANS BURIED

Durham White Stevens, American Diplomatic Advisor to Hermit Kingdom, Who Was Assassinated, Laid to Rest.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Public and private funeral services will be held this afternoon over the body of the late Durham White Stevens, American advisor to the Korean government, whose death occurred in San Francisco, March 25, as the result of a shot fired at him by In Whan Chang, a Korean student, who accused Stevens of having betrayed his country in the interests of Japan. Ambassador Takahira, by direction of his government, and in deference to the wishes of Stevens' relatives, will take charge of the public services, which will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, the rector, officiating, after which the body will be taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

Distinguished Pallbearers.

The honorary and active pallbearers have been selected from well-known men in Washington, whom Stevens numbered among his friends, and from the staff of the Japanese embassy. The honorary pallbearers will include Secretary Root, Senator Keene, Representatives Burton and Nicholas Longworth, Admirals Rodgers and Cowles, General James H. Wilson, James R. Morse, John W. Foster and Samuel Shaw, head of New York.

The active pallbearers will include General Joseph P. Sanger, Dr. Francis B. Loring, Woodbury Blair, Samuel Maddox, Dr. A. F. Magruder and members of the Japanese embassy. The active pallbearers are to be placed on the tier in the names of President Roosevelt, the Emperor of Japan, the Emperor of Korea, Prince Ito, Count Komura, Baron Takahira, Korean government, Japanese cabinet, presidents of the upper and lower houses of the Japanese diet, friends in the Tokyo and Nippon Clubs of New York and many others.

Brief public services at the home of Mrs. Joseph I. Porter, who is Stevens' sister, will be held by the Rev. Dr. Kelley of the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

STUDENTS HOSTS AT DINNER TO TEACHERS

Girls Serve 200 Instructors, Meeting for Annual Teachers' Institute.

The pupils of the John C. Fremont High school in Melrose were the hosts and hostesses last night at a banquet given in honor of about two hundred teachers of the Alameda county schools. The guests proclaimed the affair one of the best that they had ever attended and gave a vote of thanks to the pupils.

Student Waitresses.

One of the novel features of the affair was the waiting on the tables by about twenty girls' students at the school, gowned in white wearing dainty white aprons. The service that they gave the guests would put a professional waiter to shame. The girls had been thoroughly coached and worked like clockwork.

Good Speaking.

Dr. Boone, principal speaker at the present session of the Alameda county institute delivered a short address and stated that although he had visited schools all over the United States, he had never seen any to equal the John C. Fremont High school. Superior Judge Henry A. Melvin also spoke, as did Professor Frank O'Donnell.

Musical Selections.

Between the courses, of which there were nine, selections were rendered on the violin by Miss Alice Davies and Harold Hilton. The latter is a student at the school. The guests sang old fashioned songs in the intermissions. Next Friday evening the school will be dedicated and an interesting program has been arranged.

WANTS LIMITATION ON STEAMER ACAPULCO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company filed, through its attorney, Charles L. Haggerty, in the United States District court a petition for the limitation of its liability growing out of the sinking of the steamer Acapulco at her dock in San Francisco.

It is said that many claims have been filed by persons who had baggage or freight on board and that these claims will amount to more than the value of the steamer and freight pending, as it is claimed that it cost $52,800 to raise the vessel and render her.

An appraisal is asked for and an order to show cause why such appraisal should not be made was issued to those who have already libeled the Acapulco and made returnable at 10 a. m. April 25.

LIMB BREAKS; BOYS ARE HURT

Lads Were Using Branch of Tree as Spring Board.

ALAMEDA, April 8.—While swinging on the branch of a tree on which they had climbed, four boys, Roy Knappier, Harold Jauou, Robert Kemline, and S. Conby, fell nearly twenty feet when the limb broke. All were stunned and bruised, Conby sustaining the severest injuries, a fractured arm and a dislocated shoulder. He was attended by Dr. Harold A. Miller.

The accident occurred shortly before noon. All of the lads are pupils in the public school, but this being teachers' institute week they were enjoying a vacation. The boys had been watching a ball game, and to further amuse themselves, climbed into the tree and were using a large branch after the manner of a spring board when it parted from the trunk and dropped them to the ground.

EBELL CLUB ELECTS NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS

OFFICERS WILL BE CHOSEN LATER

Reports of Past Year Received by Re- tiring Board.

The Ebell Club held a business meeting and election of directors yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse in Harrison street. The directors of the club, some of whom will act as executive officers for Ebell, were chosen at the business session yesterday.

A meeting of the retired board of directors was held in the morning when the reports of the past year were received by the retiring board. At two o'clock the annual meeting was held when reports were read by the officers with those of the section curators and the committee chairman.

The annual election of officers will be held Tuesday, April 21 and it is expected that Miss Eva Powell will succeed Mrs. J. B. Hume as president of Ebell. Miss Powell is one of the younger members of the club but is accomplished and will, it is expected, preside with grace and dignity as the head of one of the most exclusive organizations about the bay.

Directors Chosen.

EQUAL ACCOMMODATIONS DEMANDED FOR NEGROES

Roosevelt Letter to Attorney-General Made Public

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Roosevelt today made public his letter of April 2 to the Attorney-General, directing proceedings by injunction to compel certain railroads of the South to furnish equal accommodations to white and negro passengers. The substance of the President's letter is as follows:

"To the Department of Justice: It appears that the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway Company has not complied with the order of the commission to furnish the same facilities to colored passengers as it has to white passengers. The commission has taken what is unquestionably the right ground, that where separate accommodations are provided for white and colored passengers, the accommodations for colored passengers shall be as good as those furnished to white passengers for the same journey."

"In other words, while there is nothing in the law which forbids separate accommodations, these accommodations must be equal. This principle of equality of accommodation is set out expressly in various State laws."

"The action of the commission has simply been to insist that the accommodations be equal in comfort for the same journey wherever the separation is made. I suggest that you proceed to enforce the order by injunction proceedings, unless in your judgment some other course is preferable."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Chinese Merchants Boycott Jap Goods

HONGKONG, April 8.—The Chinese Merchants' Guild has decided to cable its agents at Japanese ports not to place any more orders for Japanese goods and to ship goods already ordered in vessels other than Japanese.

CENSURES POLICE FOR LETTING MAN DIE

Jury Finds He Had Spinal Meningitis Instead of a "Jag."

ALAMEDA, April 8.—Censure of the police department for alleged neglect in properly caring for C. J. McCoy, who was arrested and taken to the city prison last Wednesday and who died Thursday night in the Emergency Hospital, was included in the findings of the jury that sat in the inquest this morning.

McCoy was taken into custody on the complaint of T. E. Townsend of 1371 Regent street, where McCoy roomed. Townsend said that the lodger had created a disturbance in the house while under the influence of liquor and that he had attempted to force an entrance to a room occupied by a lady lodger.

Diagnose Alcoholism.

Detective G. H. Brown was detailed to investigate the matter and when he arrived at the Townsend house he found McCoy in a state of collapse. Brown summoned City Physician L. W. Sullivan, permitted McCoy to be taken to jail, at the city prison it was thought by the keeper that McCoy was under the influence of liquor and that he would rally. He was placed in a comfortable cell in the women's department but failed to come out of his comatose state. On Thursday morning McCoy was removed to the Emergency Hospital, where he died.

Had Spinal Meningitis.

The coroner's jury found that death was due to cerebral meningitis, superinduced by alcoholism and held that the police had been careless in allowing McCoy to lie in a cell for a day and night when he was practically in a dying condition. The jury recommended that hereafter more care be exercised by the police in handling cases similar to that of McCoy.

McCoy was a druggist and had been employed in Prosser's pharmacy on Park street.

TO CONTINUE RAT CRUSADE 3 MONTHS

BERKELEY, April 8.—The college town will spend $3000 a month for the next three months in killing rats and improving the sanitary conditions. The money will come from a special fund and be expended under the immediate direction of Dr. J. D. Long. It has been pledged by private subscriptions made to the Citizens' Health Committee, and according to Duncan McDuffie, chairman of the fund, the committee of this body, there is not the slightest possibility of any delay in the campaign.

The present sanitary campaign was begun about two weeks ago, when forty-eight inspectors and rat catchers were detailed for duty under Dr. Long by the town trustees. Eight policemen and six firemen were included in this list and the expenses of the work were guaranteed out of the town treasury. Under the plan of the town, the rat catchers will continue this work until April 15 and the expenses attached will be borne by the municipality and they will turn out the problem of rat extermination to the committee of the whole Tuesday night next.

URGE TRUSTEES TO REVOKE PERMIT

BERKELEY, April 18.—Over 100 citizens of the Hillsdale district of North Berkeley crowded the town hall last night to urge the trustees to revoke the permit granted last September to the Spring Construction Company to blast in its quarry near the northeast corner of Berkeley. The trustees after an hour's spirited debate decided to consider the matter in committee of the whole next meeting.

The North Berkeley people declared that their homes were being damaged and their explosions of powder. The quarry interests declared that they were conducting the enterprise with as much care as possible.

The property owners declare that they will cease their efforts to have the trustees revoke the license and ask the superior court for an injunction.

SCORES THE WINNING RUN BUT HE BREAKS HIS LEG

BONE SNAPS AS MAN IS RUNNING

Library Trustee Is Confined to His Bed.

BERKELEY, April 8.—In an endeavor to make a score in a baseball game between the teams of the North Alameda and the Santa Fe Improvement Clubs, J. H. Mellon, the Oakland library trustee, broke his leg. The score was 3 to 2 against the Alameda players and after getting second on a grounder it was up to Mellon to amble for third on a long right field hit. The library man was off like a flash and when near third base he felt a sudden wrench in his left foot. He pluckily completed the run and discovered that he had snapped a bone below the knee for his pains. He is now confined to his bed, but he had the satisfaction of realizing that but for him the North Alameda men would have been ignominiously beaten.

JUDGE ADVOCATES CARE IN PICKING PUBLIC OFFICERS

Says We Must Have Moral Men for Work

ALAMEDA, April 8.—Superior Judge William H. Waste delivered an address under the auspices of the Good Fellows' Club in the First Christian Church last night, his subject being "The Need of the Hour." In summing up his talk the speaker said that the need of the hour was men, men of honesty, integrity and courage, who thought right and dared to do right. In the course of his address Judge Waste said:

"The spread of materialism and the insatiable growth of vices are menaces to the destiny of our institutions and our nation. The future is in our hands and it will be as we mould it. We are too apathetic in the matter of our public affairs, and therein lies the chance for corruption and graft to develop. Our government is what we make it and it is your business and my business to see that good men are placed in office and that they are kept there when they have proved their worth. When we have good men in office they are entitled to our encouragement and moral support. We need them and they need us. We have many such men in office from our president down to governors and district attorneys. They are men of clean minds, ready hands, men with wills and with opinions, which they mean to carry out."

Need of Moral Men.

"Loose and dishonorable methods in business life are responsible for much of the corruption that exists, for the kind of men for the insurance, banking and other industries, and for the illegal railroad rebates. We need men in public life who can stand up in the face of temptation and act honestly and in the interests of the people who show their trust in them by electing them to office and to power. We want men who can meet the problems of today like our forefathers met and solved the problems of the days of the revolution. They were the need of the hour then. Their kind is the need of the hour now."

MORGAN READY TO PAY $5,000,000

Morgan and Company announced today that they would redeem the notes of the Erie Railroad Company amounting to $5,000,000 which mature today, will either be paid in cash for their notes or given the option of taking a new three years 6 per cent note and five per cent of the old notes in cash. It was announced that a syndicate had been formed to supply the cash for these note-holders who do not elect to take the new notes. J. P. Morgan and Company declined to state what proportion of the note issue has been turned in under this plan.

STATE INSPECTOR IS NO LONGER NEEDED

ALAMEDA, April 8.—In accordance with legal advice from Mayor E. K. Taylor, who, besides being the chief executive of the municipality, is also an attorney, the Board of Health will not hereafter report ordinary cases of death to the state inspector of bodies, who has been making examinations in all cases of death here for several months. The local undertakers are to be notified by the Board of Health that they will not be required to summon the state inspector to examine all bodies as they have been doing. The undertaker's report of deaths to the Board of Health will be considered sufficient in all cases. Should there be any suspicion that a death was due to bubonic plague or similar disease the Board of Health will then notify the state inspector, so that a special examination can be made. In his opinion given to the Board of Health Mayor Taylor says:

"As I understand the law the State authorities have no right to interfere in the city of Alameda without our permission, unless a serious epidemic exists, which, so far, happily, is not the case. I therefore request that in future no unnecessary or unwarranted State official unless our own health officer certifies that there is reasonable ground to suspect that the case in question is one of bubonic plague."

NEW SIDE SHOWS AT IDORA PARK

Tickler and Cascades Among Costly Concessions Being Installed.

By the first of May Oakland will have the foremost amusement park in the West, and one of the finest in America. The construction of the new concessions will accomplish this in Idora Park. A number of them are being built at a cost exceeding $150,000 and they will be ready in about four weeks.

In the northeast corner of the park are being erected the L. A. Thompson cascades and the "sensational tickler." The cascades were devised by the man who invented the scenic railway now at Idora and are being installed here for the first time anywhere. Boats are used instead of cars and a flume instead of a track. The boats glide past all kinds of scenic wonders and finally make a wild dash down a long and steep flume. This concession will cost over $50,000. It is under the direction of Charles Hille, local representative of L. A. Thompson.

"Tickler."
Adjoining the cascades is the "Tickler." This will cost about $20,000. It consists of an immense inclined plane, studded with posts. The passengers are loaded into circular cars and drawn to the top by a chain. At the top the cars are released. They go whirling and skidding down the incline in every direction and with every conceivable kind of motion. At Coney Island the "tickler" is one of the biggest concessions.

Near the scenic railway is being installed a splendid carousel under the supervision of Scott A. McCartney. It will cost over $20,000. All sorts of wild and domesticated animals will be there for the children to ride.

In the northwest corner of the park is being constructed the automobile race course, under the charge of J. E. and R. B. Tengel. The auto cars will run on circular tracks enclosing the entire field.

PONY IS MATHEMATICIAN AND UNDERSTANDS ENGLISH

Animal Proves He Has Wonderful Intelligence.

More puzzling than the work of any magician is the performance being given at the Bell Theater by Tom, an educated pony. Tom seems to have a thorough understanding of the English language, not alone the particular words spoken by his master, but the meaning of the words said to him by any member of the spectators.

Tom is a mathematician. He adds, subtracts or multiplies, using any figures for the work that may be shown to him from the audience. His master does not give him the problems and Tom leaves the spectators with the impression that he fully understands what he is doing.

Tom is the cleverest of quite a troupe of dogs and ponies that Prof. Carlele introduces. The act is without doubt the best of the kind the Bell has ever given its patrons.

The S. J. J. duo perform daring and remarkable feats on Roman rings. Another clever acrobatic act is that offered by the Manning Twin Sisters.

Miss Anna York, the English singing comedienne, will prove one of the hits of the week. She is pretty, cute and clever.

The five Hawaiians, who scored such a success at the Bell three weeks ago, return for another week with an entirely new act. Howe & Edwards offer a remarkably funny comedy sketch that is more than usually clever. Two reels of motion pictures are shown.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Mackay's
Special 'Arts and Craft' Sale

Never has such a handsome display of the quaint Arts and Crafts furniture been made in Oakland as that which now occupies the entire window frontage of W. S. Mackay & Co., on 14th street, opposite the Macdonough Theater.

During the past few weeks eighteen carloads of the famous Art and Craft furniture from the leading maker in the United States have reached the warehouses of the Mackay Company. In order to more quickly introduce the public to this beautiful display this firm is giving a flat discount of 20 per cent for this entire week on every piece of this quaint furniture.

The variety is unusually complete. It embraces furniture for the parlor, upholstered with puffed Turkish leather; bedroom furniture of original design, practical yet dignified office furniture, kitchen pieces, and, indeed, something for all over the house and office.

Each piece of this furniture is constructed of specially selected, expertly joined oak and the prices are always reasonable. Reduced 20 per cent, as they are this week, it is no wonder that there is a steady crowd of purchasers each day. The regular price tags are not changed, so that the customer knows exactly the full amount of the saving effected by purchasing this week.

Master Gabriel (the Original Buster Brown), at the Orpheum, as he is off the stage.

THOUGHT 'BUSTER' SHOULD BE PUT TO BED AT HOME

There was consternation for a few minutes on the stage of the Orpheum theater yesterday afternoon during the "Buster Brown" matinee when the whistler went around that in a moment were present from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, it being supposed that official action would likely be taken to stop the performance of this Master Gabriel, the "original Buster Brown," who is drawing such crowds to the Twelfth street theater this week.

Two elderly women, accompanied by a clergyman, were overheard discussing the act of Master Gabriel, while he was holding a reception on the stage. The children in the theater had crowded on the stage to greet the famous "Buster" and to get from him the souvenirs that had been promised. It was while all this excitement was on that somebody chanced to hear the three blithering that "such a tiny mite as a chap should be kept at home in bed."

No Spring Chicken.

A stage manager went to the rescue of Buster with this speech: "Perhaps it would interest you to know that Master Gabriel is not really such a young chicken as he appears. He could not possibly be called a baby or anything like it, even though he hops around here like a kid. Master Gabriel has just past his twenty-seventh birthday."

The souvenir matinees at the Orpheum where Master Gabriel holds receptions on the stage after his Buster Brown performance have drawn immense crowds. The next souvenir matinee will occur tomorrow afternoon.

"HEIR TO THE HOORAH" PROVES CHARMING DRAMA

Strong Western Play Secured for Ye Liberty Actors.

In "The Heir to the Hoorah," which was presented last evening the Liberty Theater management has secured a strong western play. Paul Armstrong, the author, achieved considerable fame through the success of "Salome Jane," but it is doubtful if that play will be the lasting success of "The Heir to the Hoorah."

As a western play, "The Heir to the Hoorah" is unique in the fact that during the entire four acts there is not a man killed or a single gun play. The scene of the play is laid in the vicinity of a big gold mine, the "Hoorah," the property of Joe Lacy, his brother Dave and Bud Young. The principal interest is centered in Joe Lacy, who, with millions but no polish, has married a society girl and soon learns that he has been married to his money. His wife is not so much to be blamed as her mother, and through her efforts they become estranged. The birth of a son, "the heir" to the Hoorah, results in the couple and brings about the election of the mother-in-law.

The part of Joe Lacy, as played by Landers Stevens, is a fine character. Duva Lacy is admirably acted by E. L. Benson. George Ferguson is excellent as Bud Young, while Bill Ferguson and Lon Perry are unique characters presented by George Webster and George Rand.

There are many situations which are well worked out and among the characters which contribute to the life of the play is Mrs. Kate Brandon of the "Katydid" mine, a character which is charmingly played by Isabelle Fletcher, while George Cooper makes a fascinating stage Casey. The wife is played acceptably by Blanche Douglas, and Lillian Elliott, as the mother-in-law, was excellent. One of the less important parts, but one of the decided novelties of the play, is that of the Japanese valet, splendidly played by Jack Sweeney.

Henry C. Mortimer, Henry Shumer, James Corrigan, Robert Harrison and Max Walzman were all seen in congenial roles.

MINSTREL COMPANY TO APPEAR AT MACDONOUGH

Superb in stage setting, scenic effect and sumptuous costuming the new "First Part" setting of the performance given by Gorton's Minstrels this season is said to surpass anything ever presented in minstrelsy. The scene represents the broad lawn of the "Fence de Leon Hotel," the famous winter resort of Florida. On every side sparkling fountains and bright hued flowers adorn the landscape. In the background appears the imposing outlines of this famous hotel, magnificent in structure and gorgeous in color. Numerous brilliant electric lights add to the splendor and beauty of this tropical scene. The costuming of the company is elaborate, and calls for special attention. The vocalists are attired in the elegant satin court costumes of Louis XIV; the men are resplendent in evening dress suits of cerise satin; the Interlocutor appears in a costume of pure white satin, the orchestra in steel gray satin. The whole picture forms a brilliant and picturesque ensemble, original in conception and pleasing in every detail. The company will appear at the Macdonough theater next Thursday night, April 9, and on Saturday and Sunday.

EVANS WILL NOT BE AT SAN DIEGO

"Fighting Bob's" Doctor Has Him in Submissive Mood and Won't Permit
Reception.

PAFO ROBLES, April 8.—Rear-Admiral Evans will not rejoin the battleship fleet at San Diego or participate in any of the functions and celebrations in the ports of Southern California. That was finally determined this morning when, shortly after the departure of Lieutenant Frank Taylor Evans for Los Angeles to meet his mother and sister, who will arrive there today, Surgeon P. E. MacDonald informed the admiral that it would be imprudent for him to rejoin the fleet within a few days.

"Fighting Bob" Pleads.
"But I do want to go so much, doctor," said the admiral with a look of appeal in his eyes. "It's a great disappointment to me. The people have been so kind and I did want to show my appreciation as best I could."

Doctor Refuses Permission.
"I know how you feel about it, Admiral, and I appreciate your feelings," replied Dr. MacDonald. "If you insist upon going I cannot be answerable for the results. If you will take my advice you will remain here where you are doing so well. We will board the Connecticut at Monterey, where you can resume command and take the fleet through the Golden Gate."

Complete Surrender.
"Well, I am in your hands, Doctor," said "Fighting Bob" with a deep sigh of resignation. "I will submit to your judgment. Your orders will be carried out."

The rear-admiral passed a good night, but is beginning to realize that he cannot recover his health in a few days or weeks, although his improvement has been quite marked by his rest and treatment at the springs, he is still far from strong.

"It's Up to Doctor."

Yesterday afternoon he still expressed the hope "to be there," adding, however: "It's up to the doctor." Last night Lieutenant Evans, the admiral's son, and Dr. MacDonald, surgeon on the Connecticut, concluded that it would be the height of folly to allow him to rejoin the fleet in a week and advise all that he has gained by his stay at the springs.

Lieutenant Evans left on the early train for Los Angeles and will return tomorrow with his mother and sister, Mrs. S. C. Marsh, wife of Commander Marsh.

Has Improved Greatly.

"Admiral Evans is one hundred per cent better than when he arrived here a week ago," said Dr. MacDonald this morning.

"But he cannot be expected that a man at his age, though imbued by the spirit and indomitable will that he has, can recover in a few days all that he lost in so many months. I am sure the people of Southern California will appreciate that, and will gladly and willingly forego the pleasure of seeing the admiral when they know that it will mean a more speedy recovery. His gain here is all that I could expect."

Can't Stand Strain.

"He is stronger than when he arrived, but to permit him to undertake the tedious trip to San Diego and back here and subject himself to the strain and excitement of the various functions in the southern ports would undo all the benefits he has derived here and perhaps invite a complete collapse. He needs rest and quiet more than anything else. That, with the dry air, sunshine and baths here, is doing much for him. The change in his plans will give him three weeks longer at the springs and we hope to have him in good shape to resume command at Monterey and take the fleet into San Francisco."

The rear-admiral's appetite continues good. He partakes freely of everything but meats and sugar, which are eliminated from his diet.

SOCIETY COUPLE ARE SEPARATED

Walter Magee and Wife Are Living Apart; Speculation
Rife as to Outcome.

Friends of Walter Magee and his wife, who was Miss Flora Deane, are busy speculating on what the result will be of the separation that has existed between them for some time. The estrangement became generally known by the fact that for several days Mrs. Magee has been living at the Fairmont hotel in that time her husband has carefully avoided the hotel.

According to their friends it is some months since the Walter Magees have lived together. Mrs. Magee has been living with her grandmother, Mrs. Wenban, in Santa Barbara. The one child of the Magees has been with its mother.

In this time Walter Magee has re-

KOHLER & CHASE'S BIG VOTING CONTEST

A Magnificent Success

Churches, Schools and Individuals Entered Everywhere

TREMENDOUS INTEREST AROUSED BY THE GREAT MAGNITUDE OF THE PRIZES

Now Is the Time to Gather in the Votes
DON'T ARGUE, DON'T INFER, GET BUSY AND GET AN EARLY START.

Never before in the history of Voting Contests have the people been awakened as they are now. The interest in the Great Contest is Sweeping Over the Entire Pacific Coast like a Tidal Wave. Every Mail Adds New Towns and Villages with their Favorite Contestants in the great race, and in another week we believe that every city, hamlet and village will have its favorite candidates.

California has responded magnificently. Many of its leading Churches and Schools as well as many of its Popular People have already been nominated. Many of these contestants now have a splendid start, and in many cases there seems to be a concentrated effort to win, as is witnessed by the fact that each day additional votes are placed to their credit.

We are asked many times why we do not give the names of contestants at the beginning. We will say that we believe that by keeping the names back the interest becomes much more acute and every one will work harder. Besides this, by not publishing the names or standing of various contestants it gives every contestant an equal chance—that is, the ones having the lowest number of votes will work as hard as the one having the greatest number of votes, as neither will know the number the other has.

A FINE FORTY ACRE FARM FREE

To make this Contest hum right from the start we are going to give to the person having the greatest number of votes at the end of the First Thirty Days of the Contest a Deed and Clear Title to a fine 40-acre Farm, valued at $400.00 an acre.

TWO WEEKS' TRIP FOR TWO PERSONS AT FAMOUS HOTEL DEL MONTE

As an additional incentive for contestants to get started early we will give to the person having the second greatest number of votes at the end of the first 30 days a Two Weeks' Trip for Two People at Hotel Del Monte—this trip will include transportation, hotel bill, side trips, automobile rides, use of baths and golf links—the winner of this splendid prize can go to this world famous resort with a relative or friend and live like a prince for two weeks without it costing a penny. Worth trying for, isn't it? Understand, both of these are additional prizes and are given to arouse instantaneous interest in the Big Contest, and the winner of either of these prizes ought certainly to stand a mighty good chance of winning the Capital Prize—the $3,000.00 Weber Art Grand.

TO THOSE PERSONS WHO DID NOT RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION YESTERDAY, will state our advertising man told us that there would not be any great interest taken in the contest for a couple of weeks, and we were not prepared for the deluge of votes and inquiries that have poured in on us right from the start. We have now, however, secured more room and additional help, and all inquiries will now be assured immediate attention.

IMPORTANT: We would again impress upon contestants the importance of getting started early. Don't wait until the tail end of the contest and then expect to win the $3,000.00 Weber Art Grand, and don't forget the Two Special Prizes—the Big Farm and the Hotel Del Monte Outing.

Although Mrs. Walter Magee arrived at the Fairmont several days ago, she has not been joined in her visit by her husband. In fact, he has been conspicuous by his absence. Mrs. Magee, however, is still friendly with the rest of the Magee family. A few nights ago she dined with the Fred Magees at the Fairmont.

Society gossip says that the Magee family feels that Mrs. Walter Magee is not to blame for refusing to live with her husband and that, in fact, she has their entire sympathy in her troubles.

Mrs. Walter Magee was formerly the beautiful Miss Flora Deane and her sister, Miss Ethel Deane, is now considered one of the prettiest and most charming girls in the smart set. Mrs. Walter Deane is at present in the city owing to the illness of her mother, Mrs. Shaw, who is a patient in a private sanitarium.

In an interview late last evening, Mrs. Walter Magee was asked if she was true to the fact she was going to begin divorce proceedings.

"There has been nothing done about it," she replied.

"Is it not true that you are separated at present?" she was asked.

"Yes, we are," she replied, "but it is a private matter."

Walter Magee is the son of the late Thomas Magee, the pioneer real estate agent. His brothers, William A. Thomas and Frederick E. Magee, now conduct the business on Geary street, which was established by their father.

Teaching Americanism.

The disturbances in Philadelphia, the attempt on the life of Chicago's superintendent of police, the Union Square tragedy, are such a succession of warnings as even our go-as-you-please American optimism must notice. And the chief lesson they teach is of our need of energetic, intelligent and systematic education among the foreign populations of our cities as to the conditions of American citizenship—its duties, its privileges, and as to our institutions and their workings.—Chicago Tribune.

This is good straight talk from the shoulder. It is a rallying cry which should be taken up everywhere and the noise continued until something is done. There are several sides to anarchistic methods, even if they are all bad. There is no excuse for the wild-beast methods they pursue, nor any reason that they should be permitted to have as much leeway as they are allowed. The newcomer from Europe, nine times out of ten, comes from a section where he has known nothing but trouble and oppression, and where his remedy has always been the taking of life as a redress for all real or fancied wrongs. He brings with him the impression that all countries are mismanaged and that all countries are tyrannically ruled. He knows only the law of might.

Some years ago a movement was started in New York city on the East Side, where most of the foreigners live when they first come to this country, to establish night schools for the teaching of American law and the ideas of right and wrong. Naturally, a foreigner who has known nothing but oppression all his life forms a queer idea of this country, where the bitterness of politics and the rabid doctrine of putting class against mass so often prevails. In the East Side schools of New York it was found that the experiment was a success. In reviewing the work it was found that nearly two-thirds of the books called for from the libraries which formed a part of the scheme were upon American history and matters pertaining to the government and the laws.

"In this State," says the Chicago Tribune, "the newcomer is food for the fanatical agitator. He ignores the ballot. He is quick to take up the bomb."

And what is true of Chicago is pretty nearly true of all other large cities. It is well recognized that this country is not perfect; there are and always will be grave defects in conditions of life—much suffering and lots of injustice. Let's teach the stranger our method of redress.

The Southern California bridegroom who filled the members of a charivari party with birdshot is rather drastic in his methods, but he is a good reformer all the same. The charivari blackguard is to be classed with the fool who rocks the boat and the idiot who points to the unloaded gun. True he does not endanger life, but he invades domestic privacy with coarse brutality at the time above all others when privacy should be respected. If men will not refrain from the barbarous practice of charivariing newly married couples they are served right if they get shot, since the law affords no adequate protection from this sort of outrage.

Nations as Bribers and Boodlers.

The Lilley investigation by a committee of the lower House of Congress has developed the fact that the secrets of the navy are being sold to American contractors and shipbuilders and to agents of foreign countries. Apparently the leaks are in the construction bureau, which implies that the guilty parties are naval officers and not civilian employees. This implies that there is treason as well as corruption in the naval service.

The agent of an American shipbuilding firm testified that he received anonymously through the mails printed slips containing extracts from confidential reports and other data supposed to be strictly private in the department. An important bit of confidential information was imparted to him at The Hague conference by foreign naval officers.

All this is rather startling, to be sure. It suggests that some weeding out is necessary in the bureaus at Washington. The sale of government secrets must be stopped at all hazards, and the persons engaged in it exposed and punished.

The traffic in military secrets is not confined to any one country, and illustrates the absence of morality and decency among civilized nations in certain of their dealings. Every nation tries to corrupt the officers and employees of all other nations. They offer bribes for the betrayal of the official secrets of their neighbors. Each nation strives to prevent and punish bribe-taking and bribery among its own citizens and employees, but each nation plays the briber and sneak with other nations. Every nation unhesitatingly pays large sums for the betrayal of secret official information belonging to other governments. Such payments are common bribes. It is this surreptitious purchase of official secrets that sows the seed of corruption in the military and diplomatic establishments of every civilized nation. The Christian nations, with an absolute lack of honesty and good faith, hire the officials of other countries to steal important documents and betray important government secrets. While professing amity and pretending to deal with each other on a high plane of honor and friendship, they are engaged in corrupting each other's servants, prying by means of a spy system on the private concerns of one another.

And this is regarded as entirely consistent with good morals and enlightened statesmanship among Christian nations. Which means that nations in dealing with each other do not regard theft, bribery, burglary and treachery as criminal or even reprehensible. Yet they profess to abhor and strive to punish the deeds they practice in secret. Each nation knows the others are guilty, yet all profess ignorance of such nefarious transactions, and promptly disavow their own agents when detected. The man they publicly disown and brand with being an imposter they reward in secret. Every ambassador has spies reporting to him secret information obtained either by stealth and treachery or by the grosser means of corruption. It seems that we have the poison in our own system. When we corrupt the officials of other countries we cannot expect to remain immune ourselves.

Even the Lincoln-Roosevelt League will not stand for the bossing of Rudolph Spreckels. Whether the reluctance arises from antipathy to Spreckels and what he represents or jealousy on the part of other would-be bosses has not yet developed. However, it is significant that Spreckels revolts even the strong stomach of the league.

To say the very least, Joe Cannon has a name that might be productive of a big noise.

TRIAL

Judge Dooling Orders Attorneys
to Limit Questions Asked
Talesmen in Bribery
Hearing.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Abraham Ruef was the first to enter the court in the trial of the charge of bribery against him in the Parkside case this morning. Some minutes elapsing between his appearance and that of his counsel, Henry Ach, M. C. Chapman of Oakland and Frank Murphy.

Ruef appeared in excellent health and in cheerful mood. The prosecution was represented by District Attorney Langdon, beside whom Assistant District Attorney Henry occupied a seat. Behind them Detective Burns and Rudolph Spreckels were seated. Five talesmen were examined and all of them were excused on the ground of bias. These were Henry Meyer, John Holmes, Fred Krueger, Benjamin F. Noyes and Florence Arnestein.

It required two hours' questioning to ascertain that Arnestein had a deep-seated antipathy to Ruef and that he had many times expressed himself to the effect that if he could have his way about matters Ruef would never again see the light of day.

Limits Examination.
Judge Dooling set forth that it was his desire to limit the examination of talesmen to the case before the court. "Yesterday," he said, "the examination of talesmen took a very wide range—it was, in fact, a sort of 'range finding.' Today and henceforth, the examination of talesmen will be confined to the case on trial—that is, attempting to bribe one Jennings Phillips in relation to a certain franchise. If the examination shows the juror to be disqualified he will be excused. If otherwise, he will be sworn to try the case."

In a low tone of voice, Attorney Ach said: "We will note an exception to the ruling of the court." Langdon then said there were several talesmen present, who claimed that they were exempt from jury duty.

Judge Dooling said he would listen to those who claimed exemption, and instantly, twenty of the talesmen advanced their names, but the court ordered the balliff to turn all back to their seats save those who claim to have legal exemptions. He announced that he would not hear any excuses.

Only two men, F. M. Wood and W. Allen, were excused on the ground of exemption.

City Attorney McElroy this morning notified the Board of Works that, owing to a check off at least ten per cent of the amount of a bid for public work must accompany the bid, that it was necessary to reject the bid of Mahoney Bros for the construction of the Grove, James and Twelfth street sewers. Mahoney Bros' bid was $15,059 and was accompanied by a check just $9.90 short of the required ten per cent. It was owing to this fact that the bid was rejected and the contract for the construction of the sewers was awarded the Construction Company, with the next lowest bid, which was for $15,429.

Bids for the purchase of an auto-cycle for the police department were opened by the Board of Works this morning. The bid of E. F. Rose was as follows: For a one-cylinder, 2½ horse power cycle, $210; 3¼ horse power, $235; 5 horse power, $260. Frank M. Jones for auto-cycles, $210. C. F. Salmon, 2½ horse power, $233.60; 3¼ horse power, $268.50. George A. Faulkner, one-cylinder 3 horse power, $214. Dink Cyle & Motor Co., 3¼ horse power, $270. Rigid frame 3¼ horse power, $240, and rigid frame 2½ horse power, $209.

The various makes of the auto-cycles sold by the bidders are to be examined by the city officials and a report made at the next meeting of the board.

STORM STIRS RANKS OF LINCOLN-ROOSEVELTERS

Members Object to Spreckels Bossism

Already the storm of discontent has blown through the ranks of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League because of the turning over of that infant organization to Rudolph Spreckels as its chief adviser and boss. From every town and hamlet come the complaints, which have reached such a point that yesterday there was strong talk of calling a special meeting of the State executive committee, of which Frank H. Devlin of Vallejo is chairman, for the purpose of removing this onus of bossism.

Not long ago Col. E. A. Forbes, one of the active members of the executive committee of the league in the northern part of the State, trumpeted a note of warning when he urged that the body keep out of San Francisco and that it not be deluged with boot straps and all to the political boss-ship of Rudolph Spreckels. Since then developments, which have led up to Spreckels becoming the director, have failed, warning to the feeling that Col. Forbes and all his following have on the question.

From Los Angeles, a stronghold of the league, there come the strongest kicks. In Alameda county, where the league has already met defeat there is a similar feeling.

Women Frighten Burglars by Screaming Lustily When They Are Perceived.

Terrified screams of women prevented the burglary of two homes last night, the intruders in both instances having been caught in the act of theft in time to prevent their making way with much of a haul.

During the night a thief stealthily crawled into the home of Fred Gruening, 830 Webster street. He entered the bedroom and was in the act of searching Gruening's clothing for money, when Mrs. Gruening awakened. Upon seeing the intruder she screamed at the top of her voice. The man quickly ran and jumped out of the window, making his disappearance with Gruening's vest which contained a watch and a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles. The thief succeeded in making his escape before others in the house were awakened.

A burglar who had forced an entrance into the home of Dr. David Shoemaker, 1014 Sixteenth street, was also frightened away by the screams of a lady in the house. At the time the thief got into the house through a side window the members of the family were upstairs. While the intruder was in the house the lady went down stairs and encountered the thief. She screamed lustily for help and the intruder fled, stopping only long enough to pick up and carry away a box of candy from the dining-room table. The description of both men have been given to the police.

Other Robberies Reported.
Four other victims of thieves during the night reported their losses to the police this morning. W. H. Martin and H. S. Coleman who occupy rooms 12 and 14 at 905 Washington street, were visited by a burglar who stole clothing valued at $100.

F. D. Bacon of Eighth and Franklin streets reports the theft of a suit of clothes, two boxes of cigars, a pair of shoes, a diamond set, Elk's button and a revolver.

Raymond Merel, 1212 Fifth street, was robbed last night of six razors, a pair of hair clippers and two pairs of shears.

Mrs. Emma Adams of the Brunswick Hotel, Ninth and Washington streets, reports the theft of $48.10 and a check on the First National Bank in her favor for $20.

Serious Charges.

PARIS, April 8.—The hearing of the McKee divorce suit was continued in this city today. Maître Harbouss on behalf of Mrs. McKee, concluded the pleading in rebuttal.

The Italian nobleman with whom it is alleged Mrs. McKee had improper relations at a chateau at Varennes was identified as the Marquis Gagliani. M. Harbouss denied McKee's allegation and offered to produce testimony from physicians to show that his wife's physical condition at the time specified was such as to disprove the charges.

He declared that the real object of the defense was not to furnish information to the French court, but to belittle Mrs. McKee's reputation in America and secure the publication thereof.

FRENCH CAR IS ORDERED OUT OF THE RACE

RACERS ARE THRILLED BY UNEXPECTED RECEPTION

Crowds Seek to Grip Hands of Contestants

Godard, the driver of the French car Motor Bloc, has been ordered by the owners in Paris to abandon the race and dispose of his car here.

The French car De Dion, third in the International New York to Paris auto race, came down Twelfth street from the San Leandro road and turned the timing corner for Oakland at Broadway at exactly 4:02 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Although reports had gone out that the Parisians expected to get into Oakland from Fresno by 4 o'clock the great crowd that had gathered to witness it waited patiently half an hour longer.

When the dust laden machine swept into view, flying the tri-color of France at a small stick at the rear, the crowd like a loose, and cheer on cheer rent the air.

When the first shouts announced that the French car was approaching the crowd became so large and dense that the vigorous work of ten policemen was necessary to push back their enthusiastic admirers in order to make a clear way for the De Dion to pass down Broadway to Seventh street, where it turned to the right with difficulty through the throng at the S. P. local station and continued to the Oakland mole, where it took the ferry for San Francisco, arriving on the other side at 5 o'clock.

Enthusiastic Greetings.
The feeling exhibited by the crowd yesterday was typical of Americans. The spectators knew that it was a foreign car and its drivers were strangers in a strange land, but somehow the flaming spirit of battle that the Frenchmen showed infected the Americans, and the crowd cheered and yelled hysterically when Monsieur B. Bourcier Saint Chaffray, a Parisian Journalist, who represents "Le Matin," the French newspaper which promoted and originated the idea of the race, stood up dramatically in the car and put on a brilliant silk cockade, made of an American flag and a French flag, and patterned after the fashion of the famous cockade worn at the close of the French Revolution by the patriots of La Belle France.

When the significance of the bled hues of the Stars and Stripes and the Tri-Color struck the crowd, it went wild with delight and crowded in close on the De Dion that the car was stopped in the street while the people swarmed up to shake hands with the occupants of the machine and cheer until they were hoarse.

Emotions Are Stirred.
The bringing forth of the Red, White and Blue cockade and the waving of a galaxy of white star on an azure field twinkling above the center of the cockade, appeared to stir the well springs of pride and sentiment in the breasts of the rest of the crowd. The Frenchmen, when the cheering of the crowd swelled into a thunderous roar, Alphonse Cutran, the driver, who is one of the most famous racing chauffeurs in Europe, leaned over his wheel and sobbed like a child.

Emanuel Lascaris, a handsome Frenchman with almost classic features, who is the spokesman of the party, having lived in the United States for the last ten years, was always off his feet by the cheering, and standing up in his seat snatched the cockade from Saint Chaffray, waved it in the air over his head, and cried "Vive la France! Hurrah for the United States!"

The crowd greeted this combination with wilder cheering and Lascaris again cried: "Vive la De Dion! Hurrah for the Thomas Flyer!"

Start for Ferry.
By this time the police had succeeded in pushing back the crowd in front, and Autran, with forced composure, fought back his emotion, swept a grimy hand over his eyes and, pulling back his lever, started slowly down Broadway through the thick crowd.

The three Frenchmen hardly knew how to take the great demonstration in Oakland. They had difficulty in understanding the enthusiasm of the crowd. The Frenchmen for a trio of dirt-blackened, tired Frenchmen in a car that looked even dirtier and more tired than themselves.

"We have been treated with courtesy in nearly all the towns and all the big cities through which we have passed," said Lascaris at the Majestic Hotel last night, after he and his two companions had been refreshed with a good dinner, brandy, Pomery's, and had emerged from their coverings of sand and oil in the shower.

"But the good people of Oakland showed more kindness than the citizens of any other place, with the possible exception of Cheyenne. "We were never before cheered so long and so loudly as we were in Oakland this afternoon. Yesterday afternoon, on the verge of nervous collapse from the awful sufferings we had experienced on our 3500-mile journey across the continent, those cheering, those firm handshakes, those big, hearty American laughs and broad American grins revived us like champagne."

"We French and you Americans are separated by 3000 miles of water, but when you come among us, or we among you, you are brothers."

Maybe it is because of that blinding light that struck our eyes from the hand of Bartholdi's statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World" when we came into New York harbor."

Gritty Party.
It would be hard to find three better fellows to talk to, or three braver, grittier, more determined fighters to go up against than Monsieur Alphonse Autran, Emanuel Lascaris and B. Bourcier Saint Chaffray.

Autran, who presided at the wheel when the heavy French car came into Oakland, yesterday afternoon, is "the man behind the gun." He left the factory with the De Dion, and has been on the job ever since. He is a second edition of the fearless, non-temperous, reckless Monte Roberts, and just as game.

Lascaris is a fine looking chap, has lived in this country ten years, belongs to several Chicago auto clubs, speaks English almost as well as his native tongue, and talks and acts as much like an American as a Frenchman.

Saint Chaffray, who got up the New York-to-Paris auto race and pushed it to realization and success, is a leading Parisian newspaper man. He is small and lean, but has a large head and big ideas. He succeeded Hansen as captain of the De Dion car.

Tells of Adventures.
Saint Chaffray spoke at length last night about his trio's adventures on this trip, and said in part:

"We've had a rough time of it across the American continent, but we started this race and we'll finish it—and, I hope, finish first."

"The last saw the Thomas Flyer in Chicago, but have been up against it owing to poor pilots, bad roads and delays due to almost absolute impossibility to repair breaks to our machinery."

"After leaving Nevada and entering Death Valley we were lost for hours at a time. For twenty-seven hours we were buried in Death Valley sand, and a greater part of the trip was in the face of blinding, suffocating sand-storms. It was simply hell; that's all."

Plot no Good.
"Our pilot was dead weight. He was worthless. We have been running on a fair schedule. Sometimes we can go along well for a couple of hundreds of miles, and then some small break holds us for a long time. Since leaving New York we have traveled over 3000 miles."

Motor-Bloc Still In.
"Godard, the other French driver, who shipped his car, the Motor-Bloc, to San Francisco from Omaha, has not violated the race conditions. If he waits until the last car, the San Francisco car, can start again and be in the race."

ZENA WILL SOON BE FREE

Relatives Will Advance Bail-Money for Woman Charged With Shooting Actor-Husband.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Mrs. Zena Pollard, who was charged with the shooting of her husband, Harry Pollard, formerly leading man at the Mission Theater, is rapidly recovering from his wounds, which it is said were inflicted by his wife, and is expected to be up and around within the week.

Judge Shortall this morning continued the case until April 13, when the trial will go on.

Both Pollard and his wife persist in claiming that the shooting was accidental and that Pollard himself inflicted his own wounds.

In court this morning her attorney, Walter Thompson, succeeded in having her bail reduced from $1500 cash to $500, and, as soon as the formal arrangements can be made, she will be released.

Allow Big Damage By Liability Law

NEW YORK, April 8.—The first judgment under the law passed by the Legislature in May, 1906, making railway companies responsible for injuries received by an employee through the negligence of another employee, has been awarded in the Supreme Court. John Toner got a verdict of $20,000 for the loss of his left leg in July, 1906.

Toner was a motorman employed by the New York City Railway Company. The motorman of the car behind started his car crashing into Toner's car and crushed the plaintiff's leg so that it had to be amputated.

SUPPOSED FRIENDS ROB MAN OF HIS WATCH AND MONEY

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Held up at the point of a revolver by two men whom he thought his friends, Charles Schneider, who arrived here two days ago from Spokane, was robbed of $35 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $25 at 3 o'clock this morning near his hotel at 335 Montgomery street.

Schneider met the two men on his arrival and last night went out to spend the evening with them. At three men returning home and when in the darkness of Sanson street near Sacramento the two strangers suddenly turned on Schneider and after robbing him beat him viciously and left him to find his way home as best he could.

INTEREST INCREASES IN LIGHTWEIGHT FIGHT

Kennel Show Opening Draws Good Crowd Commuters Win Another From the Angels

M'FARLAND IS A HARD LOSER AT ANY GAME

Britt and McFarland Are Both Near Weight; Sullivan and Attell Sign--Thomas Will Not Fight Until July.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

Jack McFarland has repeatedly shown since coming here that he is not the sort that likes to lose. No matter what the contest may be he is always anxious to be the winner, and even though the game may be handball or tennis he enters into the spirit of the game with a will and to beat him one has to extend himself.

The day that Jim Corbett visited Packey he was asked to play a game of handball, and as the big fellow felt that he was ready to play, Corbett, who was known as a partner, Corbett, and his partner immediately jumped into the lead and looked like sure winners. Then it was that McFarland's anxiety to win became apparent.

With every muscle set for a dash at the ball he urged Jacobs to play harder and when the brilliant press agent settled down to work and the points began to roll in, McFarland was visibly pleased, and at the end of the game when the score announced his side the winner he jumped about and shouted with joy as if he had won a great battle.

Had McFarland lost that game he would have been sore on Jacobs and on himself for hours afterwards. He got so worked up in an effort to win that he lost all friendly feeling and just called in to win as if he was fighting.

Other Fighters Same.

In respect Packey is no different from many of the other fighters who were great before he was born. Jack Dempsey was one who would never lose at any kind of a game if he could possibly help it. John L. Sullivan was another who was hard to beat. Jim Corbett, when he was the champion, was one of the worst game ever known. He would fight like a wildcat to win in everything that he entered, and when training at Carson for the fight with Fitzsimmons he had a fight with one of his trainers who beat him in an exhibition game of handball.

Jeffries was the same. He had to win in every event that he entered. When Fitzsimmons was anything but a good loser, and any other number of great fighters could be named who were of the same disposition. It is a good trait in a fighter, for if he feels truly about losing a little thing like a practice hand ball game he will be a mighty hard man to convince that he is licked in a fight.

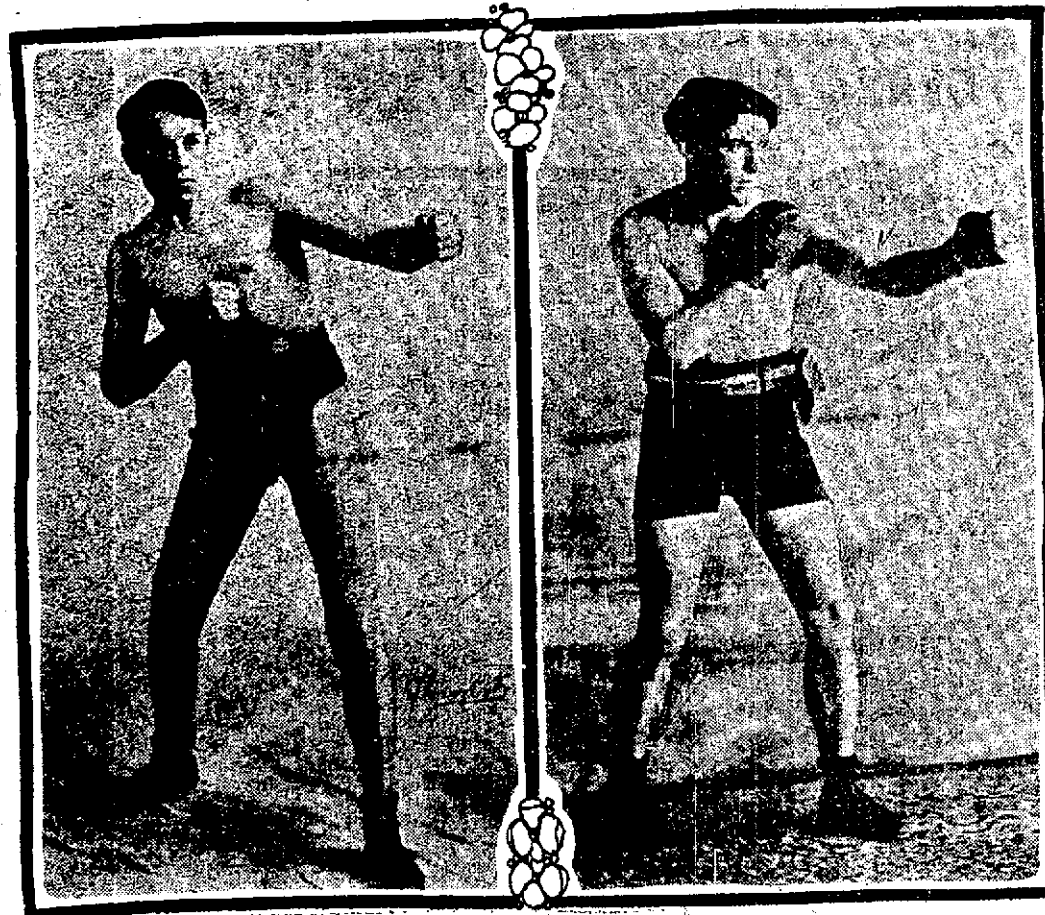

Has Cut Boxing.

McFarland after doing the best he could to give all who wanted a chance to watch him in his daily boxing bouts has cut the boxing game out of his training, and from now on he will devote all his time to bettering his wind and keeping within easy reach of the weight.

Packey has had good luck so far in his training and the experts in boxing all seem to agree that he looks fit to make the fight of his life. After the weighing yesterday both Britt and McFarland gave their weight out at 135 pounds, which will mean that both should drop to the required 133 with ease.

As this is McFarland's most important

OPENING OF THE OAKLAND KENNEL CLUB SHOW DRAWS GREAT CROWD

Society and sportsmen turned out in goodly numbers this morning to see the opening of the Kennel show at Idora Park. Quite a large crowd was on hand at 10 o'clock this morning.

The exhibition of high class canines exceeds anything of the kind ever attempted in Oakland before. Some of the best dogs in America were on hand, and about 500 of them are now on exhibition.

The show, which began this morning, will not close until Saturday night. The big runway in the skating rink is being used for exhibition purposes. Great interest is being manifested in the show. Dogs have been brought in from all classes and the competition in all classes will be very keen. The breeders are greatly elated over the selection of judges of unequalled reputation and ability to pass upon the merits of the animals. One of these judges is E. M. Oldham of New York, recognized as one of the foremost dog experts in America. The other is T. P. McConnell of Victoria, equally well-known to the owners whose blue-blooded canines will be on the benches.

There will be room in the immense rink runway for the accommodation

RACE TRACK PEOPLE NOW HAVE BIG FIGHTING CHANCE

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—The final vote on the two bills of Assemblyman Hart to end betting at race tracks will be taken in the Senate today, the Hart bills having been substituted for Senator Agnew's. Both sides are confident of winning.

The race track people insist the vote on the final passage will be 25 to 25, and as the lieutenant governor cannot cast a deciding vote, a tie means the defeat of the bills.

The Governor will call an extra session of the Senate to break the tie in the regular session. The death of Senator Franchot deprives the friends of the bills of one vote.

William Barnes Jr., the political boss who brought about the election of Senator Franchot, owns the Albany Evening Journal, which last evening contained a spirited editorial advising Grattan to vote against the bills. This editorial caused great elation among the race track men of the State. Grattan in the Senate last week that he expected to vote for the bills on the final passage.

HACKENSCHMIDT COMPLAINS OF CHICAGO'S ILL USAGE

NEW YORK, April 8.—Sore in mind and body, George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," and former world's champion wrestler, is on the ocean bound for England. Hackenschmidt did not wish to discuss his recent match in Chicago with Frank Gotch, but before he sailed he said:

"I believe I have not had a square deal. The referee when I met Frank Gotch in Chicago did not seem to see the way in which I was wrestling. I had no one behind me to look after my interests."

"You can see for yourself," said the lion, turning the left side of his face and eyes, badly disfigured. "That scratching should not be allowed in a wrestling match. Gotch kept digging his thumb into my eyes, the side of my face and the left ear. His finger nails were long and did great damage. Some Americans at the ringside cried ' Shame.'"

"I could get no hold on Gotch because of the oil on him. If I had had some one to look after my interests I would have seen to it that Gotch was washed down before the bout. I believed everything would be fair."

"Under-estimated Gotch. After I had thrown Rogers twice in fifteen minutes and Gotch had thrown him only twice in an hour I figured I was the better man."

"My training was limited, which was

Tuesday Games to Be Called at 3:45

President Ed Walter of the Oakland Baseball Club announced yesterday that until further notice all the games in Oakland on Tuesday afternoon will be called at 3:45 p. m.

Mr. Walter has been considering this matter for some time and considers this hour the most convenient for all the parties concerned.

The new schedule of time will give race followers who are also baseball fans ample time to see nearly every game in its entirety.

Bradford explained that Arrellanes is dissatisfied with playing in his home town, and Mayor paid back the money given to him for Arrellanes' release a few weeks ago.

CABIN DEFEATS JOHNNY LYONS IN LODI HANDICAP

Rudolph Spreckels' Big Horse Borghesi Disappoints Backers--Johnstown Brings Home the Coin.

In a most spectacular finish Cabin turned the tables on the speedy Johnny Lyons in the Lodi Handicap feature event of yesterday's racing program at Williams Park. Mike Hayes' good horse carried the bulk of the public's money and led his hold in the stretch kind of a drive got up in time to watch the decision by a whisker. Logistilla closed with a tremendous outburst of speed and finished a long-up third. Borghesi, from the stable of Rudolph Spreckels, again proved a disappointment to the backers by failing to gather any part of the money.

Form-players kept in the checks on Sevenfold to win the initial event, as if the race was already in. The Stover mare gave her backers little cause for worry as she took the lead at the start, and tipped her field all the way. Ballooning at 30 to 1, easily held the place from Royal Queen, another long shot.

An indifferent lot of maidens filled lined up in the second. Barney Schreiner's Oceline had the speed and lasted long enough at the end to defeat the field. Belle, the only laureate, fell into the third hole.

In a fierce drive of two, and with the advantage of the strongest ride at the end, Gypsy King ran a decidedly improved race and cleverly outgamed the field which exposed him in the third. Seemingly hung on well and easily disposed of Preen, the fast thing for the second place. The latter's race does not go.

Johnstown delivered the goods in the fifth. When McIntyre let him down he clearly beat out the fast coming Ralph Young. Show money went to Eduardo. It was Miller's ride and good racing luck which won the closing event for Mike Song. With riders reversed Lucy C. could not have lost. Nonie was in close attendance all the way and finished third.

Shoemaker Patterson of the Broadway Club analyzed the TRIBUNE racing information. So do all fair-minded turfites.

Barney Schreiner scattered $300 in twenty dollar gold pieces on Preen. Now he is wondering why.

That nose finish on the post between Johnny Lyons and Cabin was an awful blow to the talent that held Johnny Lyons tickets.

Mike Hayes' good bread-winner ran his usual honest race.

Grasscuter ran a cracking good race for the first time out. Ramsey's mare just needed that race.

Kansas Price tried to cut a good thing loose with Royal Queen in the curtain raiser. He cashed the show bet.

Everybody held a hand of Sevenfold in the first race. Stover's good mare won, as the betting indicated.

Misty's Pride was well thought of by the knowing ones and the price on the Handicapper's maid was lowered from 10 to 1 to 7 to 1 at post time. The Oregon Express hung out the distress signal when the struggle for home took place.

OAKLAND COAST LEAGUE TEAM HUMBLER CHAMPIONS

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Van Halten's "Cubs" put the kibosh on the Coast League champions yesterday afternoon by a score of 3 to 2. Van Halten's men played a great game of ball, and while three errors are tabbed up against them they were not of the kind that would lose a game.

Koestner made his debut for the Angels and he pitched a nice game of ball, but his team did not give him the proper support. Hardy who pitched for Oakland showed superb form and fanned seven of the champions.

Hits by Eagan and Stock together with long fly from Van Halten's "Cubs" two runs in the fourth. Van bat, which Ellis dropped netted the

PORTLAND PROVES EASY PICKING FOR LONG'S MEN

San Francisco Seals Wallop the Northmen in One-sided Game by Score of 11 to 2.

P. P. MACILIGAN.

In a game of ball at Freeman's Park yesterday afternoon that was hopelessly uninteresting, the San Francisco Seals showed the mark of their class by winning from the Portland Beavers, by the one sided score of 11 to 2.

At no stage of the game was Portland in it, and the only indication that they were in a game was the fact that they wore uniforms, went to bat, and fielded hits, all in a perfunctory manner.

Long's men showed a deal of class. But the big left handed twirler showed a bit of class, and he held the Northmen to six hits, and had them guessing what he intended to do throughout the game.

After the Seals had warped the reputations of Kinella and Bloomfield, McCredie discovered that he had a pitcher. Bloomfield, who succeeded Kinella, was as wild as a Rocky Mountain goat, and he didn't seem to locate the plate or keep the batters from locating the ball. When McCredie discovered that if Bloomfield continued to pitch the game might last all night he looked his pitcher over, took a shine to the red man, Pinnance, and ordered the Papoose to doff his blanket, leave the tapes and see what he could do.

Pinnance was there with an assortment of goods that put the batting streak of the Seals on the blink. The "red man" showed a wonderful lot of stuff, and his pitching was good to behold.

During the three innings that Pin-

Thos. B. McFarland, Who Is Threatened With Blindness

JURIST MAY LOSE HIS EYESIGHT

Justice McFarland Confined at His Home Under the Care of Several Specialists.

Suffering from an ailment which has afflicted him for years Justice T. B. McFarland of the Supreme Court, was unable to take the trip with the court to Los Angeles and is now confined at his home, 3397 Clay street, San Francisco, with the loss of his eyesight threatened. He is under the constant care of specialists. It is feared that the aged justice may never resume his seat on the bench. Three weeks ago his sight failed entirely and now there is no hope of more than a partial or temporary return to health. That Justice McFarland remained at his post of duty on the Supreme bench so long, in spite of conditions which would overpower most men of his will, was one of the marvels of bench and bar in San Francisco. At eighty, with a painful malady in the form of an abscess, which has afflicted him for a long time, the venerable jurist hardly lost a day from the bench. He was seen at all oral hearings by the court up to a few weeks ago, though at times, when he raised his hand slowly to his ear and pressed the seat of his robe, it was plain that he was making a brave fight against tremendous odds. Will Not Resign. A member of Justice McFarland's family said last night that the justice expected to be able to sit on the bench today and that he has no intention of resigning his seat on the Supreme bench. Three operations for the abscess were performed last September, but even then he said, "I will not resign my seat." He is now confined to his home, under the care of an eye specialist, yet he dictates opinions every day to the secretary of the court and has the secretary and a clerk of the court in his library.

IN THE STATE

Has Filed Bond Los Angeles—F. M. Kelsey, receiver of the Citizens Savings Bank of Long Beach, has filed his bond of $100,000 and today assumed charge of the bank. Earthquake Shocks Riverside—Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt here last night at 7:50 o'clock. The vibrations were from west to east. No damage was done. Granted Decree Salinas—Judge Dooling today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Frank S. Allen and his wife, who were divorced by Ky M. Myers. The wife is given the custody of the minor child and half of the community property. Convicted by Jury Los Angeles—Dr. R. S. Lantierman, former coroner, has been convicted by a jury of falsifying ex-parte accounts while in office. Dr. Lantierman resigned under pressure some time ago because of an indictment found against him by the grand jury. The principal witness against him was Clyde Sage, his former chief deputy, who has pleaded guilty to a similar charge. Aged Pioneer Dead Yreka—Jerome Churchill, a pioneer of this county, died yesterday. He first settled here in 1850. He was one of the chief shareholders and for a long time president of the Siskiyou water company. He was also president of the Churchill Company, a corporation owning a large tract of land in Butte Creek and in Shasta valley, also extensive stock raiser. He leaves two sons—J. W. and J. P. Churchill of this city—and an adopted daughter—Mrs. Hubert Steele of San Francisco—and a widow.

JURIST ROBBED AND MURDERED

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 8.—Judge James A. The police found him lying on the street corner after the shooting, within a block of his home. An empty purse which had contained $400 was found near the body.

MAX STEINLE TAKES AUDIENCE BY STORM

Max Steine kept his audience in one continual roar last night at the Columbia Theater and showed by his acting in "The Lighthouse Robbery" that he can make himself at home and win his hearers in other roles besides German ones. It is doubtful if he ever exceeded his performance of last night when he appeared as Ill Small, a stage-struck Reub Virginia Thornton is also working better this week than heretofore. As Norah Stafford, a jolly happy and winsome lass she is seen at her best. Edith Pelling as Little Jessie, a waif of the ocean is simply sweet. Laurence Peterson, Mattie Hyde, William Daul and the other members of the stock company take their parts in their usual good style. The story of the play twines around the life of the fisherman and catches in plenty of happy and thrilling situations.
